

Writing reflection Instructions

The point of this assignment is for you to reflect on what you have achieved so far, what helpful feedback you have received (so you can incorporate it more effectively), and what you plan to do in light of the feedback.

- First, for First and Second draft, assign a letter grade for each based on the comments you received and the criteria described here: First Draft. (These do not determine your final grade. I just want to see how you process comments and understand the criteria for a good philosophy paper.)
- Second, write a paragraph explaining the rationale for choosing that particular letter grade—you can simply list the number from the criteria; for example, 1.2 (for Effectiveness of argumentation), 2.3 (for Clarity of writing), 3.0 (for Logical structure).
- Third, answer the following questions:
 - Which of my comments led you to revise your paper? What did you find particularly helpful about them?
 - Which of your peers' comments do you plan to address in your revisions, and what do you find particularly helpful about them?"
 - Has your writing improved so far? If yes, briefly describe how. If not, what challenges are you facing?

Your answers do not need to be long. A paragraph or two in total would suffice.
